

Citizen Advertisers Can Serve You Well

The BETHEL OXFORD COUNTY CITIZEN

THE BETHEL NEWS, 1906

THE RUMFORD CITIZEN, 1906

Oxford County's Only Tabloid Newspaper

Volume XLII—Number 30

BETHEL, MAINE, THURSDAY, OCTOBER 26, 1936

4c a Copy—$2.00 a Year

NEWS of the WEEK

Congress Lost Sight Of
Washington, D. C. — Amid the smoke of a hot Presidential campaign, many political workers have lost sight of the fact that at next Tuesday's election the people of the country will also vote for 35 Senators and 435 Representatives. Leaders generally admit that regardless of the Presidential outcome, the division in the lower house will be a close one.

The Business Outlook
New York City—Steel operations stood at 76% of capacity, against 52% last year. Commercial loans by banks in 101 cities rose $43,000,000 over the same period last year. Cigarette production increased 33% over the previous week. Electric power consumption increased 16% over 1935 in the month of September.

Germany's Reading Curbed
Worms, Germany — Ushering in Book Week at this cultural center, Hans Johst, President of the Reich Chamber of Literature, announced that the German people would be compelled "with loving forces" to read only books produced by National Socialist authors.

Queen's Hope Revives
London, England—Ex-Queen Victoria of Spain returned from the United States where she visited her eldest son, the Count of Castella, in a New York hospital. A spokesman for the former Queen stated "Her Majesty is a very happy woman," and predicted the restoration of the monarchy in Spain, with her third son, Don Juan III, on the throne. Both of her elder sons renounced their succession to marry commoners, and the imminent capture of Madrid by the "White" forces have raised high the Bourbon hopes.

Miners' Big Contribution
Washington, D. C.—The largest single contribution thus far made to the Democratic campaign fund is that of the United Mine Workers of America, headed by John L. Lewis, with total donations of $342,149.

Pacific Volcano Erupts
Los Angeles, Cal.—Radio advices from a steamship anchored near the scene tell of a spectacular eruption of a volcano on Fernandina Island, one of the Galapagos group off the coast of Ecuador. The noise of the explosions as millions of tons of red-hot lava flow into the sea was said to be deafening.

Break With Promises Trouble
Toronto, Canada—When Charles T. Miller died in 1926 he left a will which gave to every Protestant Minister in Toronto he left one share of brewery stock; to the ministers of three other towns, one share each of race-course stock; to the Toronto mother who in ten years produced the greatest number of children the residue of his estate, now valued at $750,000. The "baby marathon" ends this Saturday and five mothers with ten entries each plan to fight for the big prize. The real leader, Mrs. Martin Kenny, has twelve entries, but isn't sure that all of them were properly registered a condition of the contest. Provincial authorities may intervene to prevent the waste of the money in litigation.

Reaching Business
Detroit, Mich.—Drawing the number from a hat, an announcer at the Detroit Oklahoma A & M football game shouted through the amplifiers that the holder of program No. 100 could be given two tickets for the next game. Hooping, fans began to cheer all over the stadium. A jammed numbering machine had stamped 500 programs with the only number.

Continued on Page Ten

BETHEL BOY ENLISTS -GOING TO HAWAII

Ernest L. Brown, Jr., son of Dr. E. L. Brown, enlisted in the Infantry recently and is stationed at Fort Slocum, New York. He expects to start for the Hawaiian Islands on the 30th of this month, and hopes to take up aviation. At the time of his enlistment he was a senior at Fryeburg Academy.

DISTINGUISHED ARTIST TO BE GUEST OF BETHEL P. T. A.

The local Parent Teacher Association has been exceptionally fortunate in securing without any cost to the public a number of speakers for the coming year who are of national and some of international fame. One need not even be a member to attend these meetings, though membership is earnestly solicited and a year's dues is 25 cents, the money being used for necessary school expenses.

On Nov. 9, at 8 p. m., an artist of international fame will display at the regular meeting some of his famous European and American paintings. He is a charming speaker and speaks on his life in other lands.

Benjamin T. Newman was first recognized abroad as a great artist in 1885. In 1887 the Louvre Art Gallery of Paris displayed his now famous picture, "Lunch in Brittany." Since then many of his pictures, some of them life size, have been displayed by the French Salon.

Not only has Mr. Newman studied in France, but he was the pupil of the immortal Boulangue and LeClerc. His pictures have been exhibited in all the great cities of America. Most of his recent years have been spent in painting around the shores of the Mediterranean and the remote mountain regions of the vicinity.

Mr. Sayles and Mr. Norton will be hosts for the evening. There will be special music.

The many friends of Mrs. Mary Goodnow will be sorry to learn that while on a visit to her sister, Mrs. M. Morgan, at Sabatua, she fell and broke her hip Mrs. Goodnow, who is 85 years of age, was brought to her home in town by ambulance Wednesday.

State of Maine WARRANT FOR PRESIDENTIAL ELECTION

County of Oxford, ss

Town of Bethel

To Walter E. Bartlett

Constable of the Town of Bethel

You are hereby required in the name of the State of Maine, to notify and warn the inhabitants of the Town of Bethel qualified to vote for senators, to assemble at Odeon Hall on the Tuesday next after the first Monday in November, the same being the third day of said month, in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and thirty-six at nine o'clock in the forenoon, then and there to give in their votes for electors of President and Vice-President.

The polls will be open at nine o'clock in the forenoon and will be closed at seven o'clock in the afternoon.

The Selectmen will be in session at Selectmen's Office on October 30th, October 31st and November 2, 1936 for the purpose of correcting the list of voters.

HEREOF, FAIL NOT and have you there and then the warrant with your doing thereon.

Given under our hand to the Town of Bethel this 26th day of October in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and thirty-six.

Selectmen of the Town of Bethel

ERNEST P. DISNEY

CARROLL P. ADAMS

JOHN H. HOWE

WALTER E. BARTLETT

PASSENGER AGENT EXPLAINS NEW TRAIN SERVICE

MOTION PICTURES

About a hundred were in attendance at the Odd Fellows dining room Monday evening when O. A. Harrison of Portland, general agent of the passenger department of the Grand Trunk railway, gave a very informative talk on the subject of local train service followed by about an hour and a half of motion picture entertainment and interesting explanation.

Mr. Harrison is well fitted to explain passenger traffic on this division as it is through his efforts that the additional trains will go into service on November 30. His presentation of the railroad's side of the case with a sympathetic understanding of the public's attitude gave the audience an appreciation of the advantages of railway safety, comfort, convenience, and economy, which is many times overlooked today.

The new schedule offers faster time both ways than ever given before, less than an hour and fifty minutes between Bethel and Portland. The east bound morning train will leave Bethel at 8:41 and arrive at the Portland station at 10:20. Leaving Portland at 5:20 p. m. its arrival here is planned at 7:07. To make the scheduled speed it will be necessary to stop only when flagged at many stations with regular stops for other trains. Incidentally he pointed out that the revenue does not warrant their continuance; the trains will be taken off and he will not attempt to get them back again.

An interesting phase of Mr. Harrison's address was reference to the depression which he says is a thing of the past. He pointed out the recurrent low periods from 1893 to that of 1929. He said that another low depression point occurred in 1935 although most people were unaware of it and now were on the up grade until the early 1940's when another tumble may be expected. But regardless of the outcome of next week's election better times are bound to be with us for several years.

The motion pictures featured winter sports scenes near Ottawa, fishing in New Brunswick and Ontario, and several reels showing a trip from Vancouver to Alaska with stops ashore along the way and the rail route inland over the coast followed to the Klondike region in 1898. The pictures, especially the last, were very beautiful and of much educational value.

The speaker was familiar with the scenes illustrated and his frequent comments and answers to questions of the audience added to the interest of the evening.

Mr. Harrison's visit was sponsored by the Bethel Chamber of Commerce.

Rev and Mrs. H. T. Wallace are expected home today after a two weeks vacation in Toronto, Belleville and Kingston, Ontario.

ADDITION TO LIST OF FIRE ALARM SIGNALS

One long blast of the fire alarm will be sounded for fires outside the Village Corporation limits. This signal will not be repeated as is the case with the present Corporation signals which will remain as before.

NEW BOOKS AT THE BETHEL LIBRARY

Dictionary of American Biography, Edited by Dumas Malone. Given by J. S. Rich.

Why Quit Your Own? George N. Peck. After All, Clarence Day.

Lob-Lie-By-The-Fire and Other Tales, Julia Ewing.

Else at Nantucket, Martha Finley. Given by Miss C. Chapman.

Tarzan of the Apes, Edgar Burroughs.

The Son of Tarzan, Edgar Burroughs.

Jungle Tales of Tarzan, Edgar Burroughs.

By Pluck Not Luck, Arthur Winfield. Given by A. S. Hinkley.

White Oak Harvest, Mazo de La Roche.

White Banners, Lloyd Douglas.

No Hero This, Warwick Deeping.

The Huddle, Carolyn Wells.

Murder in Mesopotamia, Agatha Christie.

They Walk in the City, J. B. Priestly.

RECEPTION IN HONOR OF MRS. SAUNDERS, PRESIDENT PAST CHIEFS STATE ASSN.

About a hundred members and guests attended the reception given Mrs. Addie Saunders of Hanover by the Bethel Chapter of the Past Chiefs Association of Maine, Thursday evening, Oct. 22, at Hanover. Mrs. Saunders has recently been made President of the Past Chiefs Association of Maine. The hall was beautifully decorated with little evergreen trees and flowers. The program which began at 8:30 was as follows:

Prayer, Mrs. Percy Clifford, Bethel Address of Welcome, Mrs. Norman Lamborn, Bethel Response, Mrs. Ethelyn Gilman, Auburn.

Piano solo Susan Martin, Rumford. Tap dance, Peggy Fuller, Rumford. Reading, Mrs. Clifford, Bethel.

Selection, Ladies Quartette consisting of Mrs. Percy Brinck, Mrs. Henry Galloway, Mrs. Arthur Dingley, and Mrs. Gertrude Kimball.

Dance, May Lou Chapman and Betty Smith, Bethel.

Solo, Arthur Dudley, Bethel. Dance, Mary Lou Chapman.

Remarks by Grand Officers of Maine and State Past Chiefs.

In the receiving line were Mrs. E. Perot, Mrs. and the great of honor Mrs. Addie Saunders, Mrs. Ethelyn Gilman, Auburn; Mrs. Ella Pettigill, W. H. Hards, Mrs. Ella Haskell, Auburn; Mrs. Marion Mason, Bryant; Mrs. Mrs. Josephine, Coombs; Auburn; Mrs. Amalia, Schwind, Rumford; Fred Sylvester, of Auburn.

Sister Saunders was presented with many beautiful gifts, which she acknowledged in a very gracious manner. Punch and wafers were served during the evening and dancing was enjoyed until a late hour. The grand march was led by Mrs. Saunders and her husband. Music was furnished by Florence Gurnea, piano; William Kimball, trumpet; Mrs. Madeleine Dingley, violin; and Mrs. Etta Nelson, songs and drums.

Mrs. Addie Saunders was the chair of the reception committee and the first person to have the honor of presenting the Past Chiefs Association of Maine to the Bethel Chapter.

The following program was presented by the lecturer:

Piano solo, Richard Russell. Welcome, Rev. P. J. Clifford. Response, Arthur Holman. Humorous stories, Ira Hinkford. Talk, Mr. Taylor of New Century Reading, Mrs. Bertha Munn.

Poems, Talk, Mr. Taylor of the Rural Mail Association. Reading, Eli Grover. Piano solo, Richard Russell.

Harvest SUPPER and DANCE, Newry Grange Hall, FRIDAY NOV 6. At Melancon's Orchestra. DANCING 1 till 2, 2 till 3, 3 till 4.

MASQUERADE BALL, FRIDAY OCT 26. 1 till 2, 2 till 3, 3 till 4. Tickets, 10c. 15c. 25c.

GOULD LOSES 7-0

Play Great Game Against Heavier

Outweighed 12 pounds per man

Gould Academy outfought a fine

Farmington High team here yesterday afternoon only to lose in the final minutes of play. With only three minutes and 40 seconds to go in the final period Austin blocked a punt on the 32 yard line which rolled back to Gould's 12 yard line.

Here the visitors pounced out a first down on the 1 yard line, from which they scored on the next play.

The local team deserve much credit for the great game they played against an opponent considered

3 or 4 touchdowns their better.

The Gould team had much the better of the argument in the first half, carrying the ball deep into

Farmington territory on two occasions, piling up six first downs. The story of the defeat was simply too much weight and too many reserves

which gradually wore down the resistance of Gould's eleven. Then the tough break came with only a little over three minutes to play.

The wear and tear had been a little too much for the lighter team and

although they put all they had into

it they could not stop the visitors.

Austin, center, and Dingley, fullback were outstanding for Farmington, while the team work of the linemen was their strong point. Eyecoman on the Gould team put up a great battle, led by their newly selected captain, O'Neill Robertson.

FARMINGTON GOULD

Marrell, Beason, re. 10. Stiles

Beason, Libby, rt. 10. Thurston

Colburn, re. 10. Brooks, Holt

Ray, N. Austin, g. 10. Littlehale

P. Austin, lt. 10. Howe

Marquis, re. 10. Moore

Berry, re. 10. O. Robertson

Cloutier, g. 10. Wentzel

Davis, rbb. 10. Perry

Crosby, Whitler, Blanchard, lbb. 10. Brown

Dingley, lb. 10. E. Robertson

Touchdown, Dingley Point after

Barrett, Head Lineman, Agrodala

Whitler, Referee, Coombs, Empire,

Time 4:15.

OXFORD POMONA GRANGE MET HERE TUESDAY

OXFORD, Oct. 25.—The Pomona Grange met with

Bethel Grange Tuesday forenoon

at the White of Norway was in attendance in the work of the fifth degree. Dinner was served to 127

The afternoon session began with roll call and prayers as follows:

Bethel 25, Franklin 15, Bear River

12, Pleasant Mountain 3, Hobson 1,

Paris 14, Apple River 5, Cracked

River 4, Newcas 15, Lakeside 3,

Sweden 5, Pleasant Valley 3, Round

Mountain 4, West Paris 5, Waterford 2, Pleasant Pond 3, Oxfords

New Century, Pomona 8, Snow 1, An-deracoon 1, Westacoon 1.

The following program was presented by the lecturer:

Piano solo, Richard Russell.

Welcome, Rev. P. J. Clifford.

Response, Arthur Holman.

Humorous stories, Ira Hinkford.

Talk, Mr. Taylor of New Century.

Reading, Mrs. Bertha Munn.

Poems, Talk, Mr. Taylor of the Rural

Mail Association.

Reading, Eli Grover.

Piano solo, Richard Russell.

VOTE

November 3

Do not fail to vote. Millions of other countries would gladly

have the privilege of voting in the United States.

If You Want Transportation

call 185-12

Republican Town Committee

Edward J. Williams, Chairman

Merchants alike were en-
about the Maine program,
to the point, about Maine
s.
t present, the Commission
ed in an ambitious attem
every worthwhile produc
out of the state bear a will instantly identify it
e of Maine product. Merch ng experts are agreed that can accomplish this ideal with a strong advertising
lity program, that Maine
be eagerly sought all over try.
ortunately, we have one
ne foods are unsurpassed
id. Our potatoes, corn,
is, apples, dairy products,
and seafoods are so far
one variety that there is no
son. Idaho potatoes? Sure good, but if you will take able to compare them with ne variety you will get an
the value of an advertising
n that has "sold" the peo
country on the support
the Idaho spud is superio
e all know of the success
ornia and other states
in advertising their food
can do the same in Main additional millions of dol
the pockets of our farme
merical fishermen, and it knows of more worthy po
old a little extra cash, let k up. All we need to pi
g over is the wholeheart
ation of Maine citizens
Unfortunately, the idea is ugh advanced to give you
this sketchy idea of how gram will be operated. As ps, however, you will be rmed through this column.

FIRST CHOICE
ummy—Mummy, has Aunt
a little baby?
ummy—Yes, dear.
ummy—Has Aunt May?
ummy—No, she has a little
ad.
ummy—Oh, I suppose she pick.—Exchange.

Women's and Misses'
GLOVES AND MITTENS
50c pair

CHILDREN'S MITTENS
40c pair

BOY'S GLOVES 10c pair

BOY'S MITTENS 10c pair

Leather and Cloth
25c pair

MEN'S GLOVES
10c to 29c pair

CHOPPER'S MITTENS
75c and 98c pair

MEN'S WOOL SOCKS
25c to 65c pair

Ladies'
WOOL and SILK HOSE
25c pair

Crown's Variety Store
10c—$1.00
Bethel, Maine

LL, Bethel
Show begins at 8:10 P. M.

y, Oct. 23-24

Love Flames... wild is the only

WOOD'S STORY

BEYOND

ally, Robert Kent
fighting dog

erial Thriller

AND RINTY"

, 27—$15

Boulevard

bert Cummings

DEPOSED KING WATCHES

Alfonso XIII, from exile, watches Royalist efforts to restore the Bourbon monarchy in Spain, a possible outcome of present rebellion.

FASCIST LINES CLOSE ON BELEAGUED MADRID

Like giant pliers, Rebel lines continue to envelop the Spanish capital. President Azana has fled to Barcelona. Former Queen Victoria rejoins her son Don Juan in England this week, after a month's stay in New York, where her eldest son, Count of Cadaval, who renounced his succession to the throne, lies in wait.

HEIR TO SPANISH THRONE

Don Juan, Prince of the Asturias, second son of Alfonso, choice of Royalists in event of a restoration of the monarchy.

SCHOOL SAVINGS ACCOUNT

Week of Oct. 26
Primary School
Grade	Sav. Bank	Total	Per Cent
I	$9.00	$3.40	75
II	3.00	2.35	58
III	4.00	2.00	50
IV	4.00	1.40	43
Total
	$20.00	$9.15
Grammar School
Grade	Sav. Bank	Total	Per Cent
V	$7.00	$2.20	57
VI	2.00	1.30	33
VII	3.00	1.55	42
VIII	2.00	1.70	52
Total
	$14.00	$6.75

First and Fifth Grades have no savings.

PREVENT THOSE WINTER Colds!!

McKesson's
HALIBUT LIVER OIL
50 Capsules $1.00

SQUIBB'S ADEK CAPSULES
40 — $1.00

Patch's
HALIBUT LIVER OIL
CAPSULES
60 — $1.00

W. E. BOSSERMAN, Druggist
BETHEL, MAINE

NEWS OF THE WEEK

—Continued from Page One—

Food from Forests

Pensacola, Fla. — Government officials and scientists learned of new chemical transformation of vegetation at a conference sponsored by the Farm Chemurgic Council. They heard of artificial wool made from cotton-seed, yeast and glycerine extracted from wood, and cornstalks converted into sugar. Forestry experts urged a still wider cultivation of the Chinese tung tree, which has been used for centuries in mixing paint and varnish in the Orient. Some 75,000 acres of tung are already planted in the South.

True to Form

Shenandoah town. A local printer induced Frank Trimmer, ex-convict, to deliver a lecture on "Crime Doesn't Pay." Next day the sponsor aware of a warrant for his arrest, he had collected his fee in advance and departed for parts unknown.

Capital News Notes

Washington D. C. — The President approved all items of $10,000,000 for 27 PWA projects in 34 states during September private industry total cost to be $12,777,000. Unemployed workers and payrolls increased more than $2,500,000 per week. Relief projects sponsored by local State and Federal agencies employed 450,000 persons. The Treasury has received $10,000,000 on a loan of $12,000,000 made to Greece in 1937 to help pay war refugees.

Out of 20,000 applicants for Government jobs during the last fiscal year 1936 were rejected because their finger prints revealed criminal records.

Tax Collections Top Billion

Washington D. C. — For the first time since 1928, the Internal Revenue Bureau announced tax collections for the first quarter of the fiscal year in excess of a billion dollars. The total was $1,000,000,000 with income and excess profit taxes increasing $1,000,000, alcohol beverages increasing $2,000,000 and miscellaneous taxes gaining $5,000,000.

Field Hockey Popular

New York City — Sports writers estimate that field hockey, which they call "shinny with a college education," now has 10,000 devotees among the athletic-minded young women of the country. Leader in the sport is Anne Townsend, 35-year-old Philadelphian who looks like Amelia Earhart. Perennial captain of the all-star American team, she estimates in 22 years play she has whacked a field hockey ball a total of 3,000 miles.

Condition of the Treasury

(For Last Fiscal Week)

Receipts	$59,996,549
Expenditures	$66,850,114
Balance	$1,872,269,997
Deficit, Fiscal Year	$44,594,869
Public Debt	$3,833,917,972

WEST PARIS

Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Curtis are on a several days motor trip to Boston and New York with their son, Linwood Curtis of Bridgton, manager of the First National Store there.

Rev. Elmore B. Forbes returned from Turner Center, Monday, where he had been visiting since the Oxford Association of Universalists and also exchanged with Rev. George W. Sias, Sunday morning. Mrs. Jennie Bates is still receiving treatment for shingles at the Rumford Community Hospital.

Mrs. Winifred Nelson is ill. Miss Glendine Ring was home from Burdette Business College over the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Jackson and Mr. and Mrs. Harlan W. Andrews, returned to Springfield Mass., Friday, for the week end. Mr. and Mrs. Andrews were guests of his cousin, Clifton J. Curtis and family, and Mr. and Mrs. Jackson visited her sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Rollins.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence S. Curtis of Mass. are guests of his uncle, Samuel J. Caldwell.

Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Hollis are spending two weeks with their daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Howard DeCoster at Arlington Mass. Mr. and Mrs. DeCoster came for them with their car.

NORTH NEWRY

Mrs. Robert Davis has finished work at Mrs. F. W. Wight's and will go to Grafton to stay in camp this winter, where her husband is clerking for his brother, L. E. Davis. Arnold Eames was at home over the week end.

Among those who were lucky enough to get a deer here last week were Mr. and Mrs. Hanson Olson, and Roy White.

The Young People met at Mrs. Eaton's, Thursday night.

The Head of the Tide School will have a Halloween Social, Wednesday night, Oct. 23. Candy, cocoa, and cookies will be on sale.

Mrs. Mabelle (Foster) Roys of East Kingdon, N. H., was at the Town Clerk's office Tuesday afternoon and evening looking up old records.

Rodney Hanscom was at home over the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Wight visited their son Willard at the University of Maine, Saturday and Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Davis and mother, Mrs. Annie Davis called at L. E. Wight's, Sunday.

Mrs. P. M. Walker entertained the Farm Bureau, Tuesday.

Roy C. Tripp of Newry and Miss Hule Jane Brooks of Lewiston were married Oct. 17, at Lewiston.

Supt. of Schools R. E. Pomeroy was in town Monday.

Bear River Grange voted Saturday night to have a Harvest Supper and dance. Watch for the date.

LADIES'
Silk and Wool
Stockings
25cpr.

Brown's Variety Store
10c—$1.00
Bethel, Maine

Easy Pleasant Way To LOSE FAT

How would you like to lose your fat, increase your energy and improve your health?

How would you like to lose your fat, thin and your too prominent nose and abdomen and at the same time make your skin so clean and clear that it will compel admiration?

Get on the scales today and see how much you weigh. Then get a bottle of Kruschen Salt that cost next to nothing and which will last you 4 weeks. Take one half teaspoon in a glass of hot water in the morning and down on pastry and fatty meats—go back on potatoes, butter, cream and sugar—and when you have finished the contents of this first bottle weigh yourself again.

Notice also that you have gained in energy—you feel younger in body—Kruschen will give any fat person a genuine surprise. Refuse imitations—safeguard your health—you lose fat SAFELY the Kruschen way.

NOTE—Many people find that the only diet change necessary while taking Kruschen regularly is TO EAT LESS.

LOTS OF CAKES! J. Frank Grimes, founder-president of the Independent Greenback Alliance, lights candles on a quarter-century birthday cake on this week celebrating the tenth anniversary of its founding. More than 6,500 green members of the alliance throughout the nation are celebrating the occasion, which will last until October 31. Left to right are Lucille Redmond, Mr. Grimes, and Jeanette (Tracy). The picture was made in the Chicago headquarters office of the organization.

ONLY IN BENOIT STORES LOCATED IN Portland — Biddford — Lewiston — Westbrook and Brunswick — can you buy —

THE BAUER & BLACK BRACER

IT MAKES YOU LOOK
AND FEEL LIKE A NEW MAN—IN 3 SECONDS.

$2.00

The Bracer is an entirely new kind of supporter that not only guards the vital organs but supports the stomach muscles. The minute you put it on it makes you look and feel like a new man. Bauer & Black probably better than anyone else know how to make supporters. The Bracer is made for maximum comfort and long wear. No buttons or buckles, seams can't loosen and it is made from two-way stretch latex. A trim athletic figure as soon as you put one on.

ORDER BY MAIL IF YOU WISH
STATING WAIST MEASURE

MAIL ORDER FORM

NAME
ADDRESS
Waist Measure —	C. O. D. Cash Charge
QUANTITY []

SEND TO ANY BENOIT STORE

Benoit's

SCHOOL SAVINGS ACCOUNT
Week of Oct. 26
Primary School
Sav. Bank	Total	Per Cent
$9.00	$3.40	75
3.00	2.35	78
4.00	2.00	72
4.00	1.40	63

Grammar School
Sav. Bank	Total	Per Cent
$7.00	$2.20	75
2.00	1.30	78
3.00	1.55	72
2.00	1.70	63

$14.00 $6.75
First and Fifth Grades have had.

PREVENT THOSE WINTER Colds!!

McKesson's
HALIBUT LIVER OIL
50 Capsules $1.00

QUIBBS ADEX CAPSULES
40 — $1.00

Patch's
HALIBUT LIVER OIL
CAPSULES
60 — $1.00

E. BOSSERMAN, Druggist
BETHEL, MAINE

ES LOCATED IN
Westbrook — Westbrook
you buy —

& BLACK
ER

kind of supporter that organs but supports the
ute you put it on it
a new man. Bauer &
anyone else know how
suer is made for maxi-
No buttons or buckles,
made from two-way
ic figure as soon as you

IF YOU WISH
MEASURE

FORM

C. O. D. Cash Charge

NOT STORE

nt's

BRYANT POND

At the annual meeting of the Bryant Pond Garden Club on October 15th at the home of Mrs. Abner Mann. The following officers were elected for the coming year:

President—Mrs. B. R. Billings
Vice President—Mrs. H. Kirke
Secretary—Miss Beatrice Stoetzel
Treasurer—Mrs. Harry Day
Program Committee—Mrs. Lawrence Jordan and Mrs. Albert Bowker

Librarian—Mrs. Leslie Abbott
Conservation Chairman — Mrs. Walter Davis

The Church School meets on Sunday at 9:45 a. m. Morning Worship service at 10:45. The sermon by the pastor, Rev. James MacKillop, will be "The Penalty of Uselessness." The evening service will start at 7 p. m. Moving pictures will be shown of the Home Missions Fields.

On Monday, Nov. 2nd at 7:30 in the evening at the Baptist Church the Quarterly meeting is to be held. All members and friends are urged to be present.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Andrews and Mr. and Mrs. Porter Swan and children, Arlene and Kenneth, spent the week end in Harpswell, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Farnum and daughter Alice, Arthur Wardwell and Miss Alice Andrews spent Sunday as their guests.

Mrs. Ellen Libby has closed her house and gone to stay with Mrs. Nellie Sweet this winter.

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Dragon and three sons of Peru were Sunday visitors of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Ring. Mr. Ring is not any better since his bad spell Monday.

Mrs. Villa Hudson remains about the same.

Rev. James MacKillop and family and several others of the Fellowship Forum went to South Paris, Sunday evening to the Congregational Church by invitation.

A Halloween social will be held in the gymnasium, October 31st, for the benefit of the Sophomore classes. Contests, new games and dances will make up the evening program. Refreshments will be on sale.

SUNDAY RIVER

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kenney were Sunday visitors at Major Haskins.

Alfred Hobbs has moved to Minot. Mr. and Mrs. William Enman of Augusta are staying at R. L. Foster's while hunting in this neighborhood.

Royal Reynolds accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Ramsey Reynolds back to Livermore Falls for a week.

Woodward Stearns and Cedric Russell were Friday visitors at R. L. Foster's.

Recent visitors in town were Mr. and Mrs. Brunswick Outway of Augusta, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Verrell of Massachusetts, Rev. and Mrs. John Manter of Upton, Rev. Fitzpatrick of Errol and Mr. and Mrs. I. C. O'Brien of West Cumberland.

George Wight of Bear River called at R. M. Bean's.

Harry Williamson and friends of Upton, Mrs. Edith Bailey and Mrs. Marion Spinney of Bethel were at J. W. Reynolds' recently.

Mrs. R. M. Fleet and son David spent two weeks in Gorham, Maine recently. Roland Fleet visited at West Cumberland and Gorham.

CAST CHOSEN FOR WOODSTOCK HIGH PLAY

The three-act comedy "Optimistic Oscar" will be presented at the new gymnasium, November 20th, under the direction of Miss Doris Nellson. Business managers are Rachel Twitchell and Marjorie Fuller. Stage manager, Herschel Abbott. Proceeds from this play will go to the Senior Class. The following cast of characters have been chosen.

Adam Martin, a mechanic, Raymond Dunham
Mary Martin, his wife, Helen Vittum
Mae Martin, their eldest daughter, Evelyn Lane
Belva Martin, their younger daughter, Ida Cushman
Chester Martin, the son, Clayton Ring
Milton Byron, a young grocery clerk, Stanley Farrar
Ida Lynton, Chester's girl friend, Clementine Morgan
Oscar Oswald Ostermoor, a young go-getter, Albert Ring
Madame Paulette, a modeler, Clara Whitman

EAST STONEHAM

Mrs. A. J. Anderson of Amesbury, Mass., was at her camp Tuesday of last week. She came to close it for the winter.

The Junior Choir of the Parish attended the music festival at City Hall, Portland, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Bickford were in Lewiston for the day Wednesday.

John Grover of West Stoneham has bought the Abbie Hill place at East Stoneham and will move soon.

Mr. and Mrs. George Allen and children visited his sister in Lawrence, Mass., over the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. John Files and four children and Mr. and Mrs. Max Dionne drove up through Crawford Notch, Sunday.

Donald Files has gone to work for W. A. McAllister of West Lovell.

John Files, Charles Stearn, Stanwood Nelson and Mrs. Jane Moody are having their houses wired for electricity.

The North Bridgton bus driver is staying at Mrs. Henderson's.

Tomato Pickles, Pt. Jar	15c
Rice's Mince Meat,	25c
Sun Kissed Prunes,	19c
2-lb. Can Cocos,	19c
New Pop Corn,	15c-20c
Beechnut Coffee,	32c
Balloon Flakes,
5-lb. Package	35c
Surry, new shortening,	25c
Crisco,	25c

COOK'S MACARONI, 10c
Save labels, 24 labels and $1.50 get 24 piece set guaranteed silver-ware.

L. W. Ramsell
CO.
BETHEL, MAINE

WEST GREENWOOD

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Thompson and son of Upton were in town Sunday. Mrs. Gela Bennett spent Saturday night with Miss Lila Conner.

Paul Creteau Jr. has the misfortune to break his right arm Wednesday.

Orrin Wilson spent Saturday night with his brother Alden Wilson and family.

B. L. Harrington and P. W. Croteau helped J. H. Deegan thrash oats for Arthur Cross recently.

Electric Toasters
• Irons

Corn Poppers
Boudoir and Table Lamps

J. P. BUTTS

Contrary to all reports we are still in the market for

Scrap Iron & Metals

and are paying the HIGHEST PRICES

Come and see us before bad weather sets in.

ISAAC MILLER & CO.

76 MILLER STREET Tel 2244-W AUBURN, ME

GENERAL ELECTRIC REFRIGERATOR

Begin to be Thrifty NOW!

WINTER FOOD SAVINGS

SPECIALS
Models SM-5 and SM-7

5 Cubic Foot Monitor Top Only $144.50 Regular $199 Value

7 Cubic Foot Monitor Top only $219.50 Regular $284 Value

Corresponding Reductions in Flat Top Models also.

ARE YOU AMONG THEM?

Hundreds are buying their Electric Refrigerator Now at these BIG Savings!

SAVINGS from $10 to $14.50 are now possible on both Monitor Top and Flatop General Electric refrigerators if you buy this Fall. These are standard models, carried regularly in stock. Every one is a perfect machine and bears the original 5-year guarantee.

Don't go through another Winter without your electric refrigerator. The hot dry air in the home during the coming months makes it even more necessary to preserve your food electrically.

CENTRAL MAINE POWER COMPANY

Quantity Limited

We cannot guarantee above prices after our present stock has been sold. This offer is limited and price is offered only on present supply.

LOCKE TUES., Nov. 3

ETHEL MAY SHOREY CO.

In the powerful comedy-drama

"The Grafters"

NEW VAUDEVILLE

SNAPPY ORCHESTRA

Election Returns will be Read from the Stage

Dance after Show

Adults 40c—Children 20c

GIVEN AWAY FREE—Waltham Watch or Cash Prize

Shifting Sands

by
Sara Ware Bassett

Copyright by
The Fenn Pub. Co.
WNU Service

CHAPTER XIII

INTENSE as was the joy of the three persons, who a little later set out toward the Homestead in the old yellow dory, they were a silent trio.

Horatio, pulling at the oars, was unusually earnest. Sylvia turned the ring on her finger reflectively and Stanley Heath looked far out over the water, too deep in thought to be conscious of either of them.

When, however, the boat swung into the channel, Sylvia spoke.

"Horatio and I are not coming with you, Mr. Heath," she said. "We will stay behind. Only do, please, promise me one thing. Do not tell Marcia the whole story before we have a chance to hear it. There are over so many connecting links I am certain beyond words to have to supply."

"The jewels in the first place. I can hardly wait to have that mystery solved."

"The jewels are no mystery at all. I can satisfy your mind about those here and now. They were Joan's. Mrs. Heath's. Her maid, Corinne, took them and disappeared. Then afterward, purely by accident, I met Paul Lattimer, a friend who lives on Long Island, and during the course of our conversation, he asked if I knew a good man servant, saying that Julien, their butler, had just given notice that he was to be married to Corinne the new parlor maid, and return with her to France."

"The woman's name instantly caught my attention."

"Why shouldn't I do a bit of sleuthing on my own account?"

"Thus far the detectives Joan and I had made no headway at locating the jewels."

"Why shouldn't I have a try at it myself? I got a boat and cruised along to the Lattimers' at whose house I had frequently stayed, and with the butler of whose household I was familiar. My plan was to arrive early to the morning before the family was astir and catch the parlormaid alone at her work."

"Should she prove to be our Corinne, I would hardly confront her with the theft and demand the jewels. If, on the other hand, she turned out to be another person altogether, it would be perfectly easy to explain my presence by falling back on my acquaintance with Paul."

"Well, my scheme worked to a dot."

"I remember the Lattimers' coach served lunch for the whole street, sitting up the library, faced her and demanded the jewels."

"The instant she saw me she knew the game was up, and, with out more ado, produced the gems from her pocket, shouldering all the blame."

"Julien, she protested, knew nothing of the theft. He was a self-respecting honest man. Should he be told of what she had done? It would end everything between them. She loved him. Indeed it was because of him she had committed the crime."

"It proved they had been engaged some time and long before had agreed to save their money and sometimes just if so they might be married and buy a little home in France."

"Julien had saved conscientiously, but Corinne had been extravagant and in the matter part of her extravagance slip through her fingers. He was now asking how could she had said to and to her sister when she found she had almost nothing."

"She was ashamed to face him."

"What could she say?"

"She did not know what impulse prompted her to take the jewels. She had never stolen before in all her life. The diamonds had been constantly in her care and it had never occurred to her to appropriate them. It had been a sudden, mad temptation created by the need of money and she had yielded to it without thought. Scarcely were the gems in her possession before she regretted her action and longed to undo it. She would have taken them back had she not feared the consequences. She begged Julien should not be told what she had done. If her crime could be concealed from him she was willing to make any restitution I demanded."

"Perhaps I was a sentimental fool. Anyway I simply could not see it my duty to hand the unhappy creature over to the authorities; destroy Julien's faith in her; wipe out the future she had set her heart upon. I felt if given a chance she would make good."

"Promising I would remain silent, I pocketed the gems and came away."

"Whether I acted rightly or wrongly I do not know."

"I suppose by this time the two are married and on their way to France. I believe Corinne told the truth and that under other influences she will become an excellent wife and mother. At least she has the opportunity."

"The other half of my tale—the half I never foreman nor planned—is familiar to you."

"The fog that drove me out of my course; my subsequent shipwreck and illness; the coming of Currier, our old family servant; the chain of circumstances that brought upon me the calamities from which I have just extricated myself—these are an old story. The only thing that now remains to clear my sky is for me to right myself with Marcia."

"That will be easy," smiled Sylvia.

"I wish I thought so," was Heath's moody answer.

She was not in the house when at last Stanley Heath overtook her, but far up the beach toasting driftwood into the surf for Prince Hal to retrieve.

The man paused, watching them. Hal's, her splendid body aglow with exercise, Marcia had the freedom and wholesomeness of a young athlete. Yet with all her strength and muscular ease, there was a grace unmistakably feminine in her every movement.

When she turned and saw him, she uttered a faint cry, but she did not advance to meet him. Prince Hal did that, raising up the beach, uttering shrill yelps of welcome as he came.

A second and the dog was again at Marcia's side, and in this ecstasy of delight he continued to run back and forth until Stanley Heath had covered the sandy curve that intervened and himself stood beside her.

"Marcia, dearest—I have come back—come to ask your forgiveness. I understood you cruelly the night we parted and to anger spoke words I had no right to speak. Forgive me, dear. Forgive me! Can you?"

"I forgave you long ago—before you asked," she whispered.

"Forgive without understanding—how like you! But you must not do that. You have more to forgive to me than you know, Marcia. I have been proud, unbelieving, unworthy of a love like yours. I have made you suffer—suffer needlessly. Listen to what I have to tell and then see if you can still forgive."

"Turning they walked slowly along the shore."

"I could have told you about the jewels and how I came by them at the outset had I not vainly conceived the idea of teasing you. The plan to conceal my story came to me as a form of sport—a subtle psychological game. Here I was, a girl without ceremony into a strange environment among persons who knew nothing of my background. What would they make of me? It was a game, an effort to get my feet settled. I resolved to try out the experiment. Women are apt to be tentative, particularly when they are in isolation. My advent could not but stimulate questions. I thought it would be an amusing adventure to circumvent curiosity and curiosity was what I wanted of the village."

"I placed scant dependence on your discretion and candor."

"When I went to the war, I left behind a girl who pledged herself to love and wait for me. When I came back it was to find her married to my best friend. The discovery shook my confidence in human nature, and especially in women, to its foundations. I decided love, rowing I never would marry and be made a puppet of a second time."

"The remainder of the story you know."

"I stumbled, a stranger, into your home and instantly you set at naught all my preconceived theories of womanhood by believing in me with unreasoning faith. You asked no questions. You did not even exhibit a legitimate curiosity in the peculiar network of circumstances that entangled me. You were a new type of being and I regarded you with wonder."

"Still I was not satisfied. I felt sure that if pressed too far your trust in me would crumble and, therefore, I tried deliberately to break it down by throwing obstacles in its pathway. When suspicion closed in upon me I put you to further tests by withholding the explanations I could easily have made. It was a contemptible piece of egotism—selfish and cruel—and I can remember that if I caused you suffering I have suffered also."

"For Marcia, through it all I loved you. I recognized from the moment I first looked into your eyes that a force mightier than ourselves drew us together—a force not to be denied. Nevertheless, so bitter had been my experience I dared not yield to this strange new power. Instead I opposed it with all my strength, giving my love reluctantly, fighting inch by inch the surrender I sensed to be inevitable."

"You, on the other hand, had like myself known betrayal, but you had taken the larger view and not allowed it to warp or mar your outlook on life. When love came knocking a second time, you were neither too proud nor too cowardly to answer it, but freely gave your affection with the gladness and sincerity so characteristic of you."

"I do not deserve such a love. Beside the largeness of your nature my own shows itself childish—a small, poor thing for which I blush."

"Help me to erase the past. I love you with my whole soul, dear. Everything in me loves you. My life is worth nothing unless you share it."

"Will you?"

"Ah, you need not fear, Marcia. Sylvia has told me everything. Beloved, there is not and never has been a barrier to our marriage. We have misunderstood one another. Let us do so no longer."

"I am a free man—acquitted. Come to me and let us begin life afresh."

"No more then, so lightly. As he held her in his arms, the last shadow that separated them melted away."

Under the glow of the moonlight, they walked back toward the Homestead, hand in hand.

Sylvia came running to meet them.

"How ridiculous! You must have made me out an ogre."

"On the contrary, I made you out an enchantress. I told him you would bewitch him. That's why he became pale as death. Do be nice to him—for my sake. He really is a lamb."

Sylvia stepped to the piazza.

"Horatio," called she imperiously. "Come out here right away and meet your Aunt Marcia. And please, Stanley, forgive me for mistaking you for a bandit. I'm dreadfully mortified. Still, you must admit circumstances are an art—I can see that."

"Oh, I am so glad—so glad for both of you! I believe I just could not stand it if you were not happy, because I am so happy myself. Horatio is here, you know. Didn't Stanley tell you? Why, Stanley Heath, aren't you ashamed to forget all about Horatio and me? Yes, Horatio came this morning. We're engaged. See my ring!"

"Hing!" repeated Heath. "Mercy on us, Marcia, you must have a ring. I cannot allow this young sprig of a niece to outdo you. I am afraid I was not as foresighted as Mr. Fuller, however. Still, I can produce a ring, such as it is. Here, dear, you shall wear this until I can get something better."

He slipped from his little finger the wrought-gold ring with its beautifully cut diamond.

"I—I do not need a ring," murmured she, drawing back and putting her hands nervously behind her.

"Of course you do," interposed Sylvia. "How absurd! A ring is part of being engaged."

"A very, very small part," Marcia answered.

"Nevertheless, it is a part," the girl insisted. "Come, don't be silly. Let Stanley put it on."

Playfully she caught Marcia's hands and imprisoning them, drew them forward.

On the left one glistened a narrow gold band.

"Jason's!" cried Sylvia. "Jason's! Take it off and give it to me. You owe nothing to Jason. Even I, a Howe, would not have you preserve longer that worn out allegiance, neither would my mother. The past is dead. You have closed the door upon it. You said so yourself. Don't think of it again. You belong to Stanley now—to Stanley and to no one else."

As she spoke, Sylvia took the ring from the older woman's hand and held it high in the air.

"The past is dead," she repeated. "and the last reminder of it—is gone."

There was a gleam as the golden band spun aloft and catching an instant the sunlight's glory, disappeared beneath the foam that marked the line of the incoming breakers.

"Now, Stanley, put your ring upon her finger. It is a symbol of a new life, of hope, of happier things. Isn't it so, Marcia?"

"Yes! Yes!"

Sylvia drew a long breath. "There! Now we'll not be serious a minute longer. This is the greatest day of our lives. There must not be even a shadow in our heaven. Kiss me, Marcia, and come and meet Horatio. Poor dear! He is paralyzed with fright at the thought of appearing into your presence. I left him hiding behind the door. I could not coax him out of the house."

"How ridiculous! You must have made me out an ogre."

"On the contrary, I made you out an enchantress. I told him you would bewitch him. That's why he became pale as death. Do be nice to him—for my sake. He really is a lamb."

Sylvia stepped to the piazza.

"Horatio," called she imperiously. "Come out here right away and meet your Aunt Marcia. And please, Stanley, forgive me for mistaking you for a bandit. I'm dreadfully mortified. Still, you must admit circumstances are an art—I can see that."

"Oh, I am so glad—so glad for both of you! I believe I just could not stand it if you were not happy, because I am so happy myself. Horatio is here, you know. Didn't Stanley tell you? Why, Stanley Heath, aren't you ashamed to forget all about Horatio and me? Yes, Horatio came this morning. We're engaged. See my ring!"

"Everything is an art—I can see that," she cried. "Oh, I am so glad—so glad for both of you! I believe I just could not stand it if you were not happy, because I am so happy myself. Horatio is here, you know. Didn't Stanley tell you? Why, Stanley Heath, aren't you ashamed to forget all about Horatio and me? Yes, Horatio came this morning. We're engaged. See my ring!"

"Hing!" repeated Heath. "Mercy on us, Marcia, you must have a ring. I cannot allow this young sprig of a niece to outdo you. I am afraid I was not as foresighted as Mr. Fuller, however. Still, I can produce a ring, such as it is. Here, dear, you shall wear this until I can get something better."

He slipped from his little finger the wrought-gold ring with its beautifully cut diamond.

"I—I do not need a ring," murmured she, drawing back and putting her hands nervously behind her.

"Of course you do," interposed Sylvia. "How absurd! A ring is part of being engaged."

"A very, very small part," Marcia answered.

"Nevertheless, it is a part," the girl insisted. "Come, don't be silly. Let Stanley put it on."

Playfully she caught Marcia's hands and imprisoning them, drew them forward.

On the left one glistened a narrow gold band.

"Jason's!" cried Sylvia. "Jason's! Take it off and give it to me. You owe nothing to Jason. Even I, a Howe, would not have you preserve longer that worn out allegiance, neither would my mother. The past is dead. You have closed the door upon it. You said so yourself. Don't think of it again. You belong to Stanley now—to Stanley and to no one else."

As she spoke, Sylvia took the ring from the older woman's hand and held it high in the air.

"The past is dead," she repeated. "and the last reminder of it—is gone."

There was a gleam as the golden band spun aloft and catching an instant the sunlight's glory, disappeared beneath the foam that marked the line of the incoming breakers.

"Now, Stanley, put your ring upon her finger. It is a symbol of a new life, of hope, of happier things. Isn't it so, Marcia?"

"Yes! Yes!"

Sylvia drew a long breath. "There! Now we'll not be serious a minute longer. This is the greatest day of our lives. There must not be even a shadow in our heaven. Kiss me, Marcia, and come and meet Horatio. Poor dear! He is paralyzed with fright at the thought of appearing into your presence. I left him hiding behind the door. I could not coax him out of the house."

"How ridiculous! You must have made me out an ogre."

"On the contrary, I made you out an enchantress. I told him you would bewitch him. That's why he became pale as death. Do be nice to him—for my sake. He really is a lamb."

Sylvia stepped to the piazza.

"Horatio," called she imperiously. "Come out here right away and meet your Aunt Marcia. And please, Stanley, forgive me for mistaking you for a bandit. I'm dreadfully mortified. Still, you must admit circumstances are an art—I can see that."

"Oh, I am so glad—so glad for both of you! I believe I just could not stand it if you were not happy, because I am so happy myself. Horatio is here, you know. Didn't Stanley tell you? Why, Stanley Heath, aren't you ashamed to forget all about Horatio and me? Yes, Horatio came this morning. We're engaged. See my ring!"

"Hing!" repeated Heath. "Mercy on us, Marcia, you must have a ring. I cannot allow this young sprig of a niece to outdo you. I am afraid I was not as foresighted as Mr. Fuller, however. Still, I can produce a ring, such as it is. Here, dear, you shall wear this until I can get something better."

He slipped from his little finger the wrought-gold ring with its beautifully cut diamond.

"I—I do not need a ring," murmured she, drawing back and putting her hands nervously behind her.

"Of course you do," interposed Sylvia. "How absurd! A ring is part of being engaged."

"A very, very small part," Marcia answered.

"Nevertheless, it is a part," the girl insisted. "Come, don't be silly. Let Stanley put it on."

Playfully she caught Marcia's hands and imprisoning them, drew them forward.

On the left one glistened a narrow gold band.

"Jason's!" cried Sylvia. "Jason's! Take it off and give it to me. You owe nothing to Jason. Even I, a Howe, would not have you preserve longer that worn out allegiance, neither would my mother. The past is dead. You have closed the door upon it. You said so yourself. Don't think of it again. You belong to Stanley now—to Stanley and to no one else."

As she spoke, Sylvia took the ring from the older woman's hand and held it high in the air.

"The past is dead," she repeated. "and the last reminder of it—is gone."

There was a gleam as the golden band spun aloft and catching an instant the sunlight's glory, disappeared beneath the foam that marked the line of the incoming breakers.

"Now, Stanley, put your ring upon her finger. It is a symbol of a new life, of hope, of happier things. Isn't it so, Marcia?"

"Yes! Yes!"

Sylvia drew a long breath. "There! Now we'll not be serious a minute longer. This is the greatest day of our lives. There must not be even a shadow in our heaven. Kiss me, Marcia, and come and meet Horatio. Poor dear! He is paralyzed with fright at the thought of appearing into your presence. I left him hiding behind the door. I could not coax him out of the house."

"How ridiculous! You must have made me out an ogre."

"On the contrary, I made you out an enchantress. I told him you would bewitch him. That's why he became pale as death. Do be nice to him—for my sake. He really is a lamb."

Sylvia stepped to the piazza.

"Horatio," called she imperiously. "Come out here right away and meet your Aunt Marcia. And please, Stanley, forgive me for mistaking you for a bandit. I'm dreadfully mortified. Still, you must admit circumstances are an art—I can see that."

"Oh, I am so glad—so glad for both of you! I believe I just could not stand it if you were not happy, because I am so happy myself. Horatio is here, you know. Didn't Stanley tell you? Why, Stanley Heath, aren't you ashamed to forget all about Horatio and me? Yes, Horatio came this morning. We're engaged. See my ring!"

"Hing!" repeated Heath. "Mercy on us, Marcia, you must have a ring. I cannot allow this young sprig of a niece to outdo you. I am afraid I was not as foresighted as Mr. Fuller, however. Still, I can produce a ring, such as it is. Here, dear, you shall wear this until I can get something better."

He slipped from his little finger the wrought-gold ring with its beautifully cut diamond.

"I—I do not need a ring," murmured she, drawing back and putting her hands nervously behind her.

"Of course you do," interposed Sylvia. "How absurd! A ring is part of being engaged."

SONGO POND

Two bears were shot in this Saturday.

Mrs. Dorothy Saunders with her mother, Mrs. Cash, called at Rowe Cummings' home.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Saunders called at Rowe Cummings' home.

Miss Mildred Kimball and Mrs. Bennett of Lovell were at the Kimball's over the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Lapham returned home from a stay in Mahalloway.

Hollis Grindle with Mr. and Arthur Crockett and Little daughter and Mrs. Zella Smith and Ethel Smith of Locke Mills were in Bethel, N. H., Saturday evening.

A surprise shower was tendered Mrs. and Mrs. Elmer Saunders day evening, Oct. 23. These ladies were Mrs. Sara Saunders, Mildred Garroway and daughter, Agnes, Mr. and Mrs. Carmichael, Donald Child, A. B. Kimball, Edith Carter, Mr. and Mrs. Elmo Saunders and host and hostess, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Saunders. Mrs. Saunders was formerly a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Perry.

Leonard Kimball, Urban Kimball and Gardner Gorman were in Lewiston, Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Perry Hargrave, granddaughter of South called at Hollis Grindle's on Saturday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Kimball were in South Windham Saturday evening and attended dance at Town Hall.

Leslie Kimball and crew were in Lewiston.

Connecticut Mutual Life Insurance Co. 90th Year in Business.

Charles M. Austin Agent BETHEL, MAINE

ELECTROL The Oil Burner that saves economy, with service built in. Let us quote installed price.

HEATING AND PLUMBING Also MHI Work as Usual H. ALTON BACON BRYANT FOND, MAINE

Fall Bargain Offer

Boston Evening Transcript $5.50 ONE YEAR BY MAIL FOR ONLY

(Outside Boston Postal Districts)

Here is your opportunity to enjoy reading New Boston's best daily newspaper for one year at one-half the regular subscription rate.

This offer is for the daily Transcript, six days a week, including the BIG SATURDAY TRANSCRIPT with Mass. and Book Review Sections.

Just send your remittance with mailing address and your paper will start at once.

This is a regular $11.00 value. This offer expires November 15, 1936.

BOSTON EVENING TRANSCRIPT, BOSTON, MASS.

You can get results by using The Boston Evening Transcript Classified Ads.

As He Held Her in His Arms, the Last Shadow That Separated Them Melted Away.

them and, throwing her arms about Marcia, kissed her.

POLITICAL OPINION...

DEMOCRATIC

50 Hats Thrown In Ring

Claiming to be the largest single family unit in America, the family of Lafayette, Ill., held its annual convalesce a few days ago and voted to put their collective strength of 450 persons behind the Democratic candidate for President.

"We've decided to throw our support behind the Roosevelt ring," declared the family spokesman, a young adult member of our family, who was separately questioned, "without a single exception they were for Roosevelt. Which certainly ought to prove some thing."

One Two-Three-Four

A newspaper in Missouri has been using a series of prizes to its readers for the best appraisal of the accomplishments of the New Deal, staged in order of their importance. The results, when tabulated, show that the consensus of opinion was the Administration's four achievements in the following order:

1. Restoration of banking.
2. Help to home and farm owners.
3. Farm relief.
4. CCC Camps.

True Conservatism

Never has a nation made greater strides in safeguarding democracy as we during the past three years. The men have long known that in changing world worthy institutions can be conserved only by adapting them. A great essayist says: "The voice of great events is prophetic to us—reform if you would serve." I am that kind of a conservative because I am that kind of a liberal.—Franklin D. Roosevelt.

UPTON

Waldron is building a camp and recently purchased of H. I. Bennett.

Jordan Barnett was home from High School over the week end.

Eight of the 4-H Club boys and their leader, Mrs. Bertha Allen and C. A. Jenkins and Mrs. C. A. Jenkins, went to Paris last Saturday to attend annual contest of Oxford County.

Mr. and Mrs. John Pollard, with their two sons and daughters and families of Webb's Mills are their hunting camp on Back Street. They are building an additional camp.

Mr. Lapham of Bethel topped out a schoolhouse and road machine as chimneys last week.

Mr. Kirk of Colebrook topped out a chimney for C. A. Jenkins last week.

Angeline, Everett Angeline and Henry Lombard, who went to Florida last week, got as far as Connecticut, then returned. They were gone about four days.

W. Barnett was united in marriage to Barbara Akers of Errol Tuesday, Oct. 20. She is still in Errol working at the camp. Plans to move into the woods soon on suitable accommodations arranged.

Bronchial Asthma

There's nothing safer or more effective than HICKLEY'S MIXTURE. Two or three doses in bed at night just before bedtime and many a sufferer from choking, choking Bronchitis or Asthma has found relief and a good night's rest.

If you don't believe it get a bottle today at any first class drug store. You must get complete satisfaction or money back—a fair offer. No claim is made that HICKLEY'S MIXTURE is a cure for Bronchitis or Asthma but it will give quick relief from that choking, choking struggle for breath and you get a good night's rest.

REPUBLICAN

Ely Warns New Deal Is

'Foreign to Democracy'

SPRINGFIELD, ILL.—"The New

Deal is as foreign to the theory of government upon which this nation was founded and prospered and to which the Democratic party has given its absolute allegiance during all the years of its existence as the north pole is from the south," said Joseph B. Ely, former Democratic governor of Massachusetts, here. He was speaking for the Jeffersonian Democrats, who recently banded together in support of Gov. Alf Landon at Detroit, Mich.

"The changes which the New Deal proposes are a complete revolution of the American government," Gov. Ely said. "No party affiliation can compel allegiance to this revolutionary process. . . . No true Jeffersonian Democrat could be expected to approve it and no Jeffersonian Democrat does approve it."

"The domination of the affairs of this country by big business would be bad enough, but to be dominated by the politicians in our everyday affairs is infinitely worse. I am not in favor of being regimented by either big business or the politicians."

Retribution

On top of crops plowed under and pigs killed by order of the gentleman farmer in the White House, an almighty Providence shows its laws are greater than the brain of man, or any one man. The crops are made even smaller.

From Foreign Farms

During 1935 farmers in foreign lands sold farm products in the United States to the extent of one billion four hundred million dollars. That was money the American farmer might have had but for the New Deal's tariff policy.

GREENWOOD CENTER

Mrs. Carrie Swan of Norway is visiting relatives in the place.

Mr. and Mrs. Beryl Martin are rejoicing over the birth of a son, Rexford Leigh, born October 23rd. Mrs. Martin and little son are being cared for by Mrs. Crocker of Bryant Pond. Roland Martin is spending this week with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Martin.

H. H. Cushman of Shelburne has been stopping at Camp Shady-Acre for the past two weeks.

PERKINS VALLEY

Norman Perham and Carl Franz helped Arthur Thurlow dig his potatoes last week.

Emma Perham was at home a short time Wednesday from her work caring for Mrs. George Davis at North Woodstock.

Fred Maguire and family and Maud Evans of South Lancaster are visiting Mr. and Mrs. David Shaw.

Carl Duell and family of Wrentham, N. Y. have been visiting Mr. and Mrs. Charles Swinton.

Helen Poland, Zella Silver, Frank Denison and Flora Swinton spent the day Thursday in Norway.

Arvilla Silver enjoyed a visit from Mr. and Mrs. George Battles and son and Miss Neva Benson of Errol Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Swinton entertained Ernest Dudley and wife and Audrey Ann Lajoy at supper Wednesday night.

Flora Swinton enjoyed a ride to an aeroplane at Auburn, Thursday. She says it is thrilling but she had just as soon be on solid ground.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Wadsworth are rejoicing over the birth of a baby girl Mrs. Clifton was in the nurse in attendance.

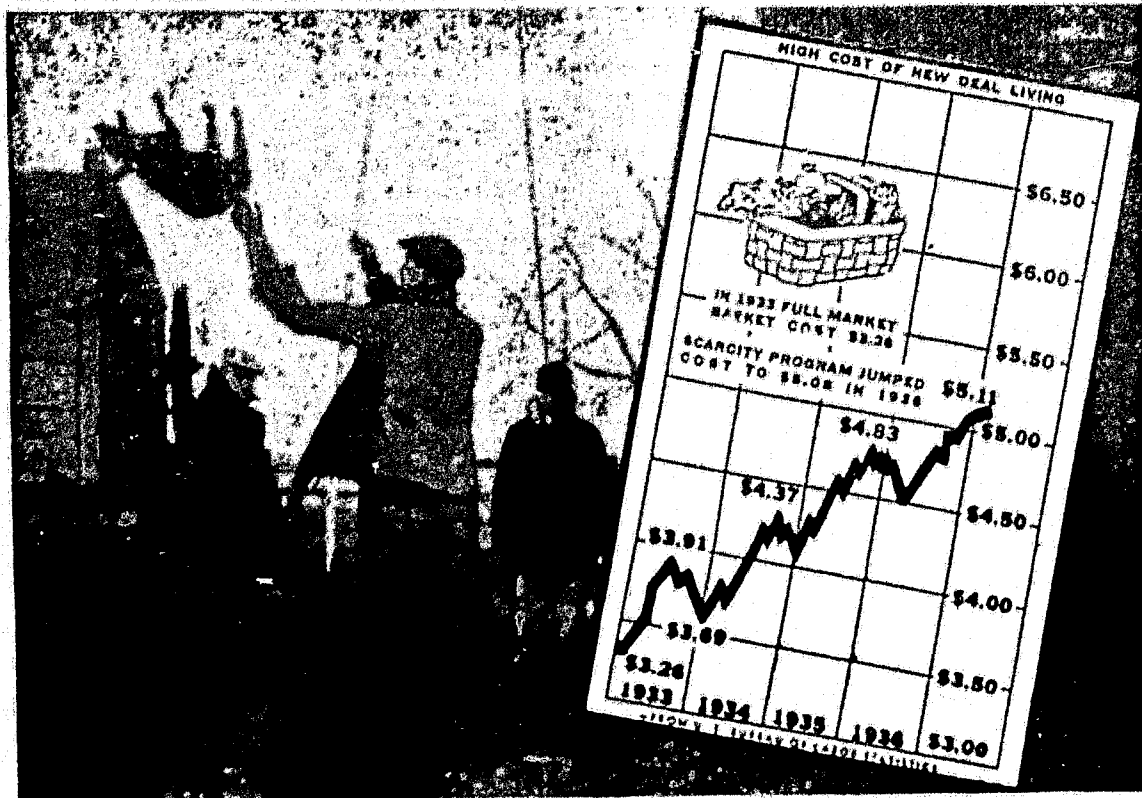

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Swinton attended the "Topsham Fair" Monday. Swinton won a canary and a rooster.

Vernon Poland, who is working for Ernest Dudley at Strata Hall was at home over the week end.

Jennie Cox was the recipient of a pretty sunshine box, Monday the gift of her friends. Jennie has been ill for sometime with rheumatism.

John Cox has some work in the mill at West Paris.

Food Destruction Tells Cost of Living Story

Wholesale destruction of food under the Roosevelt administration's New Deal scarcity program is illustrated by a typical picture at the left, taken in Mahaska county Iowa. Agent is tossing rifle-killed market pig into wagon for burial. Huge areas of food crops were ploughed under or kept out of production. At right is chart based on figures from the U. S. Bureau of Labor Statistics showing how the cost of a representative basket of food has jumped since the New Deal policies became effective in 1933.

EAST BETHEL

G. K. Hastings is spending two weeks with his cousin, E. E. Hastings in Fryeburg.

W. S. Hastings and John Howe spent one day and night last week in camp at Umbagog Lake with Grover Brooks.

Rev. James MacKillop and Miss Stoenner conducted services and Sunday School at the church Sunday. Friday evening a Sunday School Social is planned for every one interested. Mr. MacKillop will bring several records of popular pictures and games will be played after the pictures.

Mrs. Nelson and Miss Natalie Foster spent the week end in Portland. Miss Natalie was in West Bethel over the week end.

Mrs. R. D. Hastings, Virginia, Mary Alice and Warren Hastings spent Saturday and Sunday with Mrs. Hastings' brother and family. Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Dickford at Lisbon Falls.

Mrs. George Cole of Greenwood City is visiting her daughter, Mrs. W. S. Hastings, this week.

School closes Wednesday as the teachers are to attend the N. T. A. meeting in Lewiston Thursday and Friday. Next week is vacation week.

NOTICE

The subscriber hereby gives notice that he has been duly appointed administrator of the estate of Daniel L. Fendley, late of Bethel in the County of Oxford deceased without will. All persons having demands against the estate of said deceased are required to present the same for payment and all indebted persons are required to make payment.

WILLIAM TWANDE

1936

Bethel, Maine

WEST BETHEL

George Bennett and Mrs. Ella Huntington were in Boston a Millie Sunday.

Bertie Briggs of South Paris was in town several days the first of the week.

Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Phoney of Lewiston, who had just returned from a trip to Kentucky were the guests of Mrs. Estella Goodridge Sunday.

The school closed Wednesday for a week's vacation. Mrs. Helen Hunt, Miss and Mrs. Mildred Edwards will attend the teachers' convention at Lewiston.

Mrs. Fred Lovejoy is out of this writing.

Mrs. Ed Mason, who has been quite sick in recent better.

Mrs. Ada Miller from Gorham, N. H. is spending a few days with her niece Mrs. Clayton Randall and family.

Mrs. Clara Brown was home Sunday from South Paris.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hall of South Paris are with I. H. Kennerman while Mrs. Kennerman is visiting relatives in Connecticut.

Ralph Brown has enjoyed a week's vacation from his duty as manager at the A. & P. store.

Robert and Robert Keen of Lewiston are spending the month of November in Bethel.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lathrop have been in town for a week or two.

Miss M. B. Keen and son Joe Keen were in town for a day last week.

THE BETHEL NATIONAL BANK

BETHEL, MAINE

IN BUSINESS

SINCE 1895

Member F. D. I. C.

DODGE AND PLYMOUTH CARS

DODGE TRUCKS

1/2 to 1 Ton

O. K. CLIFFORD CO. INC.

SOUTH PARIS

BUSINESS CARDS

Watch This Space for Dates

Eyes Examined, Glasses Furnished

by E. I. GREENLEAF

OPTOMETRIST

100 W. 1st St.

SATURDAY, NOV. 7

DR. RALPH OTIS HOOD

OSTEOPATHIC PHYSICIAN

Office at the residence of

Myrta Bryant

By Appointment Bethel, Maine

DR. HOWARD E. TYLER

CHIROPRACTOR

Bethel

Mon. Afternoon

Thurs. Evening

NORWAY

Rel. 228

S. S. Greenleaf

Funeral Home

Modern Ambulance Service

Telephone 112, Bethel, Me.

DAY AND NIGHT SERVICE

E. E. WHITNEY & CO.

BETHEL, MAINE

MARBLE & GRANITE WORKERS

Chaste Designs

FIRST CLASS WORKMANSHIP

Letters of inquiry promptly answered

See our Work Get Our Price

E. E. WHITNEY & CO.

Estimates Guaranteed

KNOW WHAT YOU BUY

Nationally Advertised Goods are Sold by Bethel Merchants

For purchase of standard appliances and goods in Bethel, the quality and price are right. The manufacturer's name is on the label. It is otherwise.

SEE NATIONALLY ADVERTISED GOODS IN BETHEL

See our Work Get Our Price

E. E. WHITNEY & CO.

Estimates Guaranteed

KNOW WHAT YOU BUY

Nationally Advertised Goods are Sold by Bethel Merchants

For purchase of standard appliances and goods in Bethel, the quality and price are right. The manufacturer's name is on the label. It is otherwise.

SEE NATIONALLY ADVERTISED GOODS IN BETHEL

See our Work Get Our Price

E. E. WHITNEY & CO.

Estimates Guaranteed

